Police Notified of His Escape From the Asylum in Napa

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—Chief of Police Vollmer has just received word from the Napa State Insane Asylum that Robert Livingston, who claimed, at the time he was committed by Superior Judge Ogden of Oakland, that he was a student of phsyiology, has escaped and is still at large. Posses are endeavoring to apprehend the fugitive, as it is said he is violent.

Scared Co-eds

Livingston was arrested in Berkeley last March, and charged with insanity. It was claimed by co-eds, members of the La Sotana Club, at 171 Euclid avenue, that Livingston was in the habit of flirting with them and forcing his attentions upon them in the University Library. At the time that Livingston was given his hearing in Judge Ogden's court twelve pretty girls appeared against him, and testified as to the manner in which he had forced his attentions upon them.

Police on Watch

Livingston resided on Grant street in the city, and the local police are keeping a sharp lookout for him, thinking he may return and again force his attention upon the pretty co-eds, which seems to be his particular hallucination.

RAINS ARE GENERAL

The total rainfall in Oakland for the past twenty-four hours has been .87 of an inch.

The total rainfall for the season up to today has been 2.79 inches.

In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Rains began falling here at 8 o'clock this morning. The rain has been a steady downpour during the day. It will make farmers and stock raisers rejoice, as plowing had been delayed and feed for stock was growing scarce.

Plowing Delayed

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 25.—Rain began falling here at 8 o'clock this morning. The rain has been a steady downpour during the day. It will make farmers and stock raisers rejoice, as plowing had been delayed and feed for stock was growing scarce.

Stockton Flooded

STOCKTON, Nov. 25.—It has been raining continually since late last night, and there is no sign of a let up. Nearly half an inch of rain has fallen and the farming interests are reaping great benefit, as the precipitation fits the soil for early cultivation and the putting in of the next season's crops.

Reports from outside show that the rain is general throughout the country.

Snow on Mt. Hamilton

SAN JOSE, Nov. 25.—In the face of a local forecast of "fair, light frost" for this morning, a light rain began to fall about 2 o'clock, and by 8 o'clock had developed into a genuine deluge, stoppage, a strong wind and a heavy and continuous rainfall. The precipitation for the season up to the beginning of the present storm was .83 of an inch, and with the present rain grass will start and farmers will be enabled to plow.

Up to 10 o'clock half an inch had fallen. Snow is falling heavily on Mount

Chas. Frohman Invites Twelve
American Girls to Become Stars

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Charles Frohman is looking for twelve must-be stars, and to get them he has made an offer, through a local publication, which should prove attractive to all American girls who aspire to the stage.

Briefly, the plan is this: Twelve pretty girls, from any State in the Union, are to be selected for Frohman's future stars. They will receive a six months' free tuition in singing, dancing and acting, and then a forty weeks' contract on the stage at $25 a week.

This contract will include a trip to Europe and a chance to appear at a London theater. If the fair applicant succeeds, she will receive another contract for a two or three year engagement in the Frohman companies.

Frohman points to Maybell Gilman and Pauline Chase as examples of young women who became stars without the aid of the advantages offered to twelve American girls, not now on the stage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Forty families were driven from their homes today into a chilly rain by fire, which destroyed three four-story buildings in North Winchester avenue and occasioned a loss of $75,000. Three men were injured by falling beams while they sought to extinguish the flames and rescue the occupants of the building. Three sick women were carried through smoke-filled corridors by the firemen while the blaze was spreading.

Harry Holly, some years ago prominently connected with the Reliance Athletic Club, but who in recent years has been in serious trouble with the police, is once more in the limelight. Last night at 7:30 o'clock, according to a report filed with the police, he crawled into the bathroom window of the home of Miss May Richards, 1250 Myrtle street. Miss Richards fired a shot at the intruder to protect herself against possible harm. Holly made good his escape, the bullet having

FRAMEWORK OF NEW UNIVERSITY CLUBHOUSE FALLS DURING STORM

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—With a resounding crash, which sounded like a peal of thunder, and could be heard for blocks around, the three story steel framework of the new University Club building at the corner of California and Powell streets, fell in the basement at an early hour this morning, and remained a mass of twisted ruins.

The members of the club have been congratulating themselves that their new building was well under way, and have pointed with pride to the steel work, which had begun to look like something, as it stood opposite the Fairmont, near the summit of Nob Hill. The work was being done by the Pacific Steel Rolling Company, and was of the usual Class A style, fastened to cement foundation in the basement.

The storm of the early morning and the heavy wind which always blows over the hill, however, proved too much for the structure and its twisted remains are all that can now be seen.

The construction company is entirely responsible, and will immediately begin the work of again raising the steel. Meantime a meeting of the club may be called in order to determine whether the present plans will be carried out.

123 DEAD

Vessel Catches on Fire in Sight of Harbor

Those Who Were Not Roasted
to Death Were Drowned
Trying to Escape.

VALETTA, Malta, Nov. 25.—The British passenger steamer Sardinia of the Ellerman Line was destroyed by fire just outside of this port today and a total of 123 persons were either drowned or burned to death. Seventy persons were rescued. The dead include 100 Arabs, 5 European passengers and 18 members of the crew. Most of the people on board were pilgrims.

Warships Give Aid

Assistance was hurried to the burning vessel from all the warships in the harbor and from ashore, but the work of rescue will be greatly impeded by the heavy sea. The flames spread rapidly and were fed by streams of naphtha from the forehold. There was a condition of panic on board and those who did not jump into the sea were roasted to death.

The vessel was finally driven ashore on the Pecasoli rocks where her grounding was followed by a succession of volcanic-like explosions, indicating the explosion of the naphtha stored in her hold.

Scores Drowned

There was a wild scene of panic on board as the rapidly spreading flames drove the passengers to the rails and many of the excited ones, not even waiting for the boats to be lowered, plunged into the sea. Scores are believed to have been drowned.

Lamphere Guilty of Arson Instructs Judge

LA PORTE, Ind., Nov. 25.—William J. Dingee, to whom Judge Dunn issued a citation last week commanding him to appear in court for examination as to his qualifications to remain on the bond for $400,000 given jointly by him and Thomas H. Williams, to secure the release from custody of former Mayor Schmidt, did not appear today when the matter came up. It was reported by the sheriff's office that the citation had not been served, as Mr. Dingee could not be located.

District Attorney Langdon, through a deputy, announced that his office was willing to consent to a continuation of one week, but Judge Dunn fixed Monday next as the date of the next hearing.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 25.—A meteorite is reported to have fallen seven miles south of Muskogee last night, striking the barn of Frank Smith, killing two horses and burying itself deep in the ground.

Counsel M. Sutherland, for the State, opened the arguments. Attorney Weir and Worden, for the defense, followed.

The closing plea this afternoon was made by State's Attorney Smith. At its conclusion the case will go to the jury.

Tried to Drown Baby In a Bucket of Water

Mrs. Multchance was formerly an inmate of one of the state insane asylums and her peculiar actions have often attracted the attention of passersby. It was by the merest chance that she did not succeed in drowning the infant last night, and she is now detained in the detention hospital pending an investigation into her actions, which will probably lead to her return to an asylum.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better—they will help all the other organs to health.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient or physician, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable curative power in the most disastrous cases.

Symptoms of Kidney Trouble.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but if you are obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best.

Swamp-Root is always kept up to its high standard of purity and excellence.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. STILL TRYING TO IMPEACH THE TESTIMONY OF FUREY IN THE TRIAL OF ABE RUEF

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The effort to impeach the testimony of Supervisor John J. Furey, who is on the stand in the Ruef trial case, was renewed this morning by Attorney Ach, who fired question after question at the witness, and when he replied confronted him with the differences between his present testimony and that given before the grand jury.

He referred to the incident of the acceptance by certain members of the board of money from both the Home Telephone Company and the Pacific States Telephone Company, in which the Supervisors successfully played the game, both ended from the middle. Furey is not so bold to bring up such money mentioned at having to tell before judge, jury and spectators the story of the ballyhoo paid him. It is hard for him to earn his immunity contract and he shows it every time he opens his mouth.

The usual tilt between counsel were not so bad, but when Attorney O'Gara, his second, interrupted Ach telling him he had not received all of Furey's fast money to him, the defendant's counsel replied:

"Will you let me conduct my own cross examination? Your honor, Mr. O'Gara cannot direct my manner of questioning this witness. I am entitled to go with this interruption."

Right to See Testimony

Attorney O'Gara maintained that Furey had a right to see the testimony, however, and Ach was directed to hand it to him by the court. The witness testified that Gallagher gave him $3500 in the telephone matter and in response to Ach's question, said that neither Gallagher, Ruef, nor Schmitz had anything to do with his getting $500 from the Pacific States Telephone Company. He was asked whether, after he had voted in favor of the Home Telephone Company, Halsey had called upon him. "Yes, shortly afterwards Halsey came around and wanted the money back."

"All of it?" questioned Ach.

"No, only some of it. He asked me how much I would give back. I said $2500."

"And you kept the other $2500?"

"Yes, I kept that."

Voted for Franchise

"And voted for the Home Company?"

"Yes."

"Did you make any promises to Halsey?"

"Yes, I said I would protect his company's interests."

"Now, Mr. Furey, when you went down to the Gladstone apartments, did you understand that everything would be all right, and had you been informed that a contract of immunity had been reduced to writing?"

"Yes, sir, I think I had."

Attorney Hiram Johnson was not present during the morning session, but Attorneys Sullivan, Dwyer and O'Gara appeared for the prosecution.

TO TAKE SAILORS TO FLEET AT MAGDALENA

MARE ISLAND, Nov. 25.—The Navy Department has issued orders that the cruiser Buffalo proceed to this station to take a squad of 300 sailors to Magdalena bay to take the places of the marines on the different ships of the Pacific fleet. The supply ship Albatross, saluted noon today for Magdalena bay, and wireless experts who installed the new wireless station at Valdez, Alaska, have returned to this station. Colonel Randolph Dickens, of the United States Marine Corps, has arrived at Mare Island from the Laysan Island Navy Yard and assumed command of the marine barracks here.

keeper's interests to know if there was anybody trespassing on the preserve.

Describes Shooting

The witness said that he could not see anything on the marsh until he climbed to the tank house. He then saw a small dot moving. He got down to the ground before Rea raised the rifle and fired. Morgan said the keeper did not take any particular aim, but raised the weapon to his shoulder and shot at random. After firing one shot, he ejected the shell and fired another. Rea told Morgan he did not believe he had hit anybody, but thought it would scare the trespassers.

The rifle with which the shooting was done was brought into court and Morgan posed with it to show the jury the manner in which it was handled by the defendant.

Promised Silence

Morgan said that after the shooting he promised to be a good fellow and not say anything about the affair. He said he thought the matter would be dropped by the officers if nobody at the clubhouse said nothing about it.

Rea told Morgan, according to the witness, that he had formerly been employed as a brakeman by the Southern Pacific.

Rea told Morgan, according to the witness, that he had formerly been employed as a brakeman by the Southern Pacific.

HELP BARRED

There were many craft in the harbor at the time of the disaster and several tugs and other swift, small vessels rushed to the assistance of the imperiled liner. The heavy sea and heavy gale which prevailed at the time, however, made it impossible for them even to approach the Sardina and they could do little in the way of aid.

The Sardina left Liverpool November 14 with a cargo of general merchandise for Mediterranean ports. Her crew numbered forty-four, and about twenty first-class and six second-class passengers embarked at Liverpool.

50 Bodies Recovered

Most of the passengers undoubtedly were Levantines, Maltese and Egyptians. Many of these people cross on the steamers of this line from Malta to Alexandria. It is their custom to pitch their tents on decks for shelter during the four days' trip. The decks are cluttered and this condition undoubtedly made the orderly clearing of the ship difficult.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon, fifty bodies from the Sardina had been brought ashore.

Captain's Bravery

From the beginning the captain and the crew stuck nobly to their posts. They served out life belts and did everything possible to help the panic-stricken passengers, most of whom were Arab pilgrims. There were only eleven Europeans on board the Sardina out of a total passenger list of 161.

The flames originated in the fore-hold. A quantity of naphtha was stored there and it fed the conflagration to such an extent that it soon became impossible to save the vessel.

Leading Citizens in All Walks of Life Give Welcome Home to the Rev. C. R. Brown

PAY GLOWING TRIBUTES TO DR. BROWN

HERE was a welcome home reception and banquet tendered last night to the Rev. Charles R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city on his return from an extended tour abroad and on the eve of resuming the active duties of his position in this city as a minister of the gospel a friend of humanity and an earnest advocate of civic righteousness.

There were in the beautiful quarters of the Home Club where the banquet was tendered one of the most representative assemblies of the citizenship of the city, county and State, which has ever been seen within those classic walls. In it were representatives of the wealth, manufactures, labor and all the learned professions of this section.

No Vacant Seat

The assembly hall was garnished with flowers and autumn leaves and at intervals upon the walls were displayed gems of art. The stage was occupied by an orchestra which rendered a number of choice selections in a masterly manner. The guests' tables ran across the hall and from this extended five other tables, and there was not a vacant seat at any of them.

The guest of the evening was frequently referred to in a most complimentary manner, and accepted the references with a modesty which is characteristic of the man.

The exercises were opened by Frank A. Leach, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, who was chairman of the general committee of arrangements. He called the gathering to attention after the menu had been par-

To Give Honor

"We," he said, "who have come from every walk of life, have assembled to do honor to him our beloved fellow townsman, who has returned to us from an extended absence."

"I believe we have here representatives representing the best interests of our own city in its most diversified form and that we are proud to have him with us again." (Applause.)

"I wish to make a statement regarding the selection of Rev. J. K. McLean for toastmaster. When the doctor was asked to serve in that capacity he replied that to do so would look like a father presiding at a banquet to his own son." (Applause.) Reply was made to this statement of the doctor that any father who had such a son should be proud to preside in his honor." (Laughter and applause.)

Enthusiastic Greetings

The Rev. J. C. McLean was then introduced as toaster and was received with applause. Every person present responded to his feet as a greeting to the venerable clergymen and for more than a quarter of a century pastor of the church the present head of which is the guest of the evening.

I thank you, he said, "very much for this kind reception. I find myself in a delicate position. I am like a soldier without a sword, a hunter without a gun, a toastmaster without toasts. I find here a host of subjects referring to the list of speakers and what the latter represented but I find no sentiments to which they are to speak. (Laughter)

I am especially gratified in seeing such numbers of the representative business men of Oakland gathered here on such an occasion as this tonight.

Notable Gatherings

This room has had a good many notable gatherings and I believe I don't underestimate that fact when I say that in history it has never gathered together men more morally powerful and of positive influence than I see gathered here tonight. (Applause)

"Allow me to congratulate you. We are here as a mass meeting. We are not here as a mass meeting of indignation. We are here as a mass meeting of appreciation although we have seen that mass meetings of indignation, within the past few days have had a beneficial result. Mass meetings of indignation and mass meetings of appreciation should be drawn together. As between indignation and appreciation I take the stand ordinarily and where warranted in favor of the latter, as exemplified tonight.

Good for the People

"Because of what I see here I think it might be a good thing to send some other good citizen abroad to pay his way and when he returns if he behaves himself, gets together as many representative citizens as there are here tonight, takes it up indefinitely." (Laughter and applause)

If you don't want to send him away why not build a room four times the size of this where you could bring men in large numbers—a room in which 1000 men could gather from all parts of the country to know each other to see how well they look and the heartiness with which they eat. (Laughter)

"I am glad to see my brother Brown home. Oakland seemed lacking, seemed in some sense defective. I have been coming down to Oakland for some months past, but it was useless. Brown's not in town. (Heavy laughter) It has been very gratifying to see how well you have considered and recognized the worth of my relative." (Laughter)

"Next to him I am pleased at this demonstration. I will now ask you to listen to Mayor Mott.

Mayor Mott was received with cheers and delivered a very effective address representing the city government.

Senator Perkins Speaks

Senator George C. Perkins was received in a demonstrative manner to speak as the representative of the State and Federal governments.

"I am pleased," he said, "to have the honor of being present here this evening to join the citizens of Oakland and vicinity in extending a hearty welcome to our distinguished guest, Rev. Charles R. Brown. His life is a part of the history of this city. I want to say in confidence that you came near losing the gentleman in Washington. One of the leading members of the Congregational

New Citizenship Represented by Rev. Brown, Declares Mayor

MAYOR MOTT, representing the city government, spoke as follows:

"I have assembled in this beautiful building tonight a rare company. It is a distinguished company which has gathered at this board and it is an occasion which might well be cherished in the memories of every one of us, for I know of nothing that could sink more deeply into the hearts of all of us than the thought that we have again in its home, and again in our midst, one who stands in the very first rank of our best citizens."

What Return Means

"I feel that this assemblage is an inspiration. It means more than the hearty and sincere welcome home that we give to our esteemed friend and fellow worker in the cause of justice and humanity. It means more than the reliefing over his shoulders after a long absence in foreign lands. It means more than the purely personal equation that we present in our presence here to do honor to man who represents not only the high calling of religious leader and counselor, but the best of Americanism—Americanism which stands for honor, righteousness and upright dealing in all of our civic, social and business activities. To him brings home the great fact that after all we may accept the indomitable power of goodness and beauty and high standards of moral and spiritual life as the real and elemental force in all that we have on earth worth attaining."

Sentiment of City

"It would not seem to be out of place at this time for me to say a personal word concerning my relations with our guests of honor. At May 1st this city, it has been my extreme good fortune to have come into close touch with many splendid qualities which you possess and which have endeared you to every one of us."

Pastor Has Proved Himself Friend of Labor, Says Speaker

J. SMART spoke in behalf of on the point of a strike. Brother Brown and in reference to the statement of Senator Perkins that Mr. Brown's letter would like to Washington personally said:

"In behalf of labor, I wish to say that all the virtues in the world are in Washington and we will assure that all the sinners in the catalogue are here. If Bro. Brown will remain with us and not go to Washington."

"Organized labor has placed Dr. Brown upon a pedestal and there he will remain for all time. That is the greeting which organized labor extends to Dr. Brown to night."

Aid to Unemployed

"Not long ago, when we were confronted with the problem of many unemployed, Dr. Brown and the late Brother Petry were among those who sought for money and aided them until they were able to provide for themselves. Sometime ago, the ironworkers were

Rev. Brown Is a MAN in and Out of Pulpit, Says Dr. Baker

DR. E. E. BAKER, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was called upon to respond to the toast on the mortal issues of the church and State. His remarks were in part as follows:

"My congregation can't tire of Dr. Brown and the reason send him away for his own sake. They sent him away to get a much needed rest. He is home here again and home to stay. Dr. Brown is one of that kind of clergymen you cannot help but listen to and I often wonder how glad I am that I can hear him play the piano. I might hear him on some other occasions."

"I am myself convinced that it is easier to succeed as a Congregational minister than a Presbyterian minister. A Presbyterian minister must have a brough or a belly. Brown has neither. Brown is a man tonight. He goes about town on his wheel as a man and when he gets on the pulpit on a Sunday he is still a man, and I am surprised that I do not sometimes see that wheel with him."

"I think that above all else that Dr. Brown has shown is that he respects a large audience by his measures. His messages have filled houses, while in some churches I have known of there was room to burn. Brown is a fair competitor when he is in a church several blocks away from his. I found the game he played was fair and square. I found that he believes in religious co-operation and not religious competition."

"Now Brown, talking to you as a man personally: When I came to this town, I found a letter of welcome sent by the members of the church. In these same heartfelt tones I want to welcome you home again to your city and our city. May the Lord give you peace and let the light shine upon thee."

Dr. Brown Has Won Love Of Collegians at Stanford

PROFESSOR J. M. STILLMAN, speaking on behalf of the Stanford University and the department of education, in part said:

"It gives me great pleasure as a friend of Dr. Brown and a representative of Stanford to pay this tribute to our citizen. I feel sorry for those who would be remiss if they declared to you now that this sentiment is that of our city and of its citizens. This gathering attests better than words can what that sentiment is in Oakland."

"My acquaintance with Mr. Brown has principally confined to his work at Stanford. For the last four or five years he has been lecturing on ethics and in that way I have come in touch with him, as have the students and faculty of Stanford University. No finer or nobler influence was ever with us than that which has emanated from Mr. Brown's work and efforts there."

Friend of Collegians

"It is rare to find a man with the faculty to attract the young man of college. It is a little hard to reach him on the conservative side. Rare do we find men who can teach boys and young men as Mr. Brown does. It is rare but important, for in reaching these young men we are talking to the men of tomorrow. Nothing is needed more than to reach out and talk to the young men. We need to do this for our future."

Work to Do

"Mr. Brown can do much for us men of middle age. We can strengthen ourselves with better resolutions, but our characters are pretty well formed. We are made from clay and our clay is pretty well moulded, but that of the young man is not. Mr. Brown is worked pretty hard with his service but I think he should be worked pretty hard. The young man's clay is still in shape to be moulded and we want Mr. Brown to mold it for him."

"I welcome Dr. Brown on behalf of Stanford University and may his years among us be many."

HOSPITAL SHIP RELIEF SAFELY RIDES STORM

The United States naval hospital ship Relief, though badly battered, is safe in the port of Sorsogon, in the southernmost part of the island of Luzon, about 300 miles from Manila as a vessel would steam. The hospital ship Relief for Guam and was due at the latter port on Friday last. Nothing had been heard of her, and the greatest anxiety was felt. The news of the vessel's safety was received at a late hour last night in a cablegram direct from Sorsogon received by Mrs. Charles Francis Stokes from her husband, who is the medical officer in command of the Relief. Mrs. Stokes is at present residing in Berkeley with her little son.

The cable received from Dr. Stokes tells in a few words the narrow escape of the Relief from serious disaster in the recent typhoons that have swept the Philippine archipelago. It follows:

"Ship injured by storm. Arrived here all well. Can't say how long we will remain; await further instructions from Manila."

Ship on Fire

MANILA, Nov. 25.—Admiral Perry today received a telegram from the hospital ship Relief, five days overdue from Manila for Guam and was due at Guam for which port she sailed from this harbor November 15, the message coming by way of Sorsogon in southern Luzon, and stating that the ship was badly damaged by a typhoon which was encountered on November 18, during which the engines were disabled. Fire broke out on the Relief, but was promptly gotten under control, the crew of the ship showing splendid discipline. The Relief is now proceeding to Manila under her own steam, repairs to her engines having been made by the crew.

The news confirms the fears that were entertained here that the Relief had met with disaster as she did not arrive at Guam on time.

ALL HAVE NEGRO BLOOD IN CENTURY, SHE SAYS

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Miss Little Dureux Blake created something of a sensation yesterday at a meeting of the Society for Political Study at the Hotel Astor in a discussion on "Crimes," by saying, after reference had been made by others to the record of negroes in criminal annals:

"White blood is now so mixed with black blood that the real negro is being wiped out. In 100 years from now I don't suppose there will be one left and everybody, broadly speaking, will have a strain of negro blood in their veins. I cannot say that I will regret it."

There were others who did not take this view.

ITALIAN ENTRY WON BIG LIGHT CAR RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The world's long-distance wireless record is broken. Across 4700 miles of ocean waves have been received from Japan by wireless operators in this city, and though they have been unable to reply, have watched with growing interest the efforts of the Japanese to get into communication with the United States through other means than cable or ship.

Nearly four months ago James O. Watkins, chief operator, and Lawrence Marlin, night operator, were up one night to catch strange signals from apparently a great distance. They were in their station on the summit of Runyan Hill at Taylor and Vallejo streets. The messages were heard from time to

Women Suspected of Smuggling in Silk

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Miss Ruth Watson, a school teacher of Portland, Ore., who arrived in Japan last Sunday in the Mongolian, must pay duty on $2000 worth of silk and curios, and the customs officials say that she is lucky she has escaped paying a fine on attempted smuggling charge, as she was upon arrival that her purchases abroad did not amount to more than $225. As a result of the agreement with the government officials over her baggage, Miss Watson, who is staying at the St. Francis, claims that she is on the verge of nervous prostration and too ill to discuss the matter.

S. F. MINT IS TO COIN MONEY FOR THIS COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—At the United States mint the execution of 100,000 pieces of $2000 in copper cents has been completed, and will be delivered at the Sub-Treasury Friday. The further coinage will be at a later date, but will depend on the local demand for them, but it is stated that having wrested from Philadelphia this privilege the minting in future of all subsidiary coins required to supply the coast will be coined at San Francisco. An order is looked for daily for the execution of five and three-cent pieces.

DEADLOCK IN SAN DIEGO

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—President Coolidge, in a deadlock with Secretary of the Treasury, B. C. Wright, saw the bill introduced by Senator Smith yesterday. The bill would give the minting of $2000 in copper cents to San Diego, but the matter stands unchanged. The matter will be referred to the Postmaster at Berkley.

BIG PLEASING ACTS

ROSE STAHL,
Star of "The Chorus Lady," Which Plays All Next Week at the Macdonough.

Was Never One Herself, She Says—'Chorus Lady' Describes the Life

(By ROSE STAHL.)
Was I ever a chorus girl? Never! And I was never in vaudeville until "The Chorus Lady" was transferred from a sketch in a magazine to a one-act play. I took it out on the continuous, and then to London, and it made such a hit that it was changed a bit, made into a four-act drama, and here we are.

While it is true that I never filled the place of a chorus girl myself aside from the fact that Patricia O'Brien is a good photograph of this particular woman of the stage, I am tremendously familiar with the chorus girl's life, from the girl who gets fifteen per and lives on it, to the chorus queen who, apparently on the same income, rides in automobiles, and here we are.

They Are Pathetic

There are lots of Patricia's struggling, plucky, spunky, straight and good-hearted. They're funny, but they are pathetic, too, and they have a hard life. I studied the chorus "lady" on and off the stage for years. It's a sight for the gods and the humorist to see her at a lunch-counter, the road. She falls off the train and rushes into the station to get a sandwich and a glass of milk, or a doughnut and a piece of pie. She gives her order as King Richard might call for his horse or Cleopatra her barge, and heaven help the poor attendants if they do not fly to do her bidding. She is disdainful of her food and scathing in her comments on the service. She pays her check with an air of an injured queen and stalks out, leaving the luncheon menials under the impression that they have failed to please Mme. Duse or Sarah Bernhardt.

Laughter Empty.

It's all very well to make people laugh, but just laughter is empty unless there is some heart interest you go away and forget both play and player. Of course a great many people pay their money to laugh only, but most of them, I think—especially that part of the audience composed of my sex—enjoy a happy galaxy of laughter and tears, but the others, as I say, have their rights. However, the one thing I like best to do is to make a man cry, after I have made him laugh. I think Patricia O'Brien does get under his vest to the point where he has to pay the bill.

Where does the chorus girl come from, and what becomes of her?

Why not ask, what becomes of the girls?

Comes From Country

She comes from the country, as a rule. The mirror over the washstand in her farmhouse bedroom has told her that the country is no place for her, so she packs her carpetbag, buys some high heels and a big hat, and comes to town to show New York what real youth and beauty are. Once in awhile a girl may start with the ambition to become a singer or an actress, but, as a rule, the country girl seeks the chorus, because it's easier to wear tights than to scrub floors, and "swell" to dance than to stand all day behind a counter—please do not think by this that my advice is to go into the chorus rather than do these things. One in a hundred thousand becomes a star like Edna May, Edna Wallace Hopper, and Lula Glasor, the others marry—it's the only thing for them to do if they are sensible.

Likes Performers

When I was in vaudeville I used to love to sit in the wings and make friends with the performers. The trained birds, the performing ponies, and the india rubber acrobats; but most of all the spangled "sisters" just waiting to do their "trot." I think they liked me because I liked them. They were used to chesty "legits" who snubbed them, and you may be sure that they had their own opinions of the chesty "legits," and it wasn't expressed in blank verse, either.

Let it be known that Patricia O'Brien is not a "chesty legit," but she has her ideas and inspirations, which are only in need of inflation. She believes that there should be always a tear behind the laugh in every part. This is the reason, perhaps, that Patricia O'Brien is so much loved by her audiences.

Hobson and the Battleship Fleet.

The Chronicle says Captain Hobson is too intemperate to be accepted as a champion of the Pacific Coast. Evidently our contemporary refers to the letter Hobson recently addressed to the President relative to keeping the battleship fleet now in Oriental seas in the Pacific ocean. Our opinion is that Hobson is too much of an alarmist and too impolitic in discussing our relations with foreign nations, especially Japan, but nevertheless his letter to the President was a clear, logical and accurate presentation of the situation. Naval strength in the Atlantic ocean is no defense for the Pacific Coast. If there is any attack to be guarded against it is on these shores. At the suggestion of danger the entire country instinctively looks toward the Orient. If there is need for protection anywhere it is this western coast and our insular possessions, all within striking distance of Japan. The President has frequently urged the creation of a strong navy as an arm of national defense. His argument is sound, but ordering the whole strength of the line ships back into the Atlantic, leaving only a cruiser squadron in these waters, is not in harmony with it. The eastern coasts are better fortified than ours, have the advantage of being near the seat of government, the war colleges and the central authority of the army and navy. There is no uneasy problem awaiting settlement so far as Europe and America are concerned, and all South America could not harm us. Yet the whole scheme and strength of national defense is centered in the East, where all is secure and there is no rift in the line, while the Pacific Coast and the islands over which our flag floats are bereft of ships and left to face a possible invasion unprotected and helpless. These are facts which cannot be altered by saying Hobson is intemperate and unwise. He is both, but what he stated so clearly to the President cannot be denied. It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts us, and while Hobson is probably in error as to the warlike intentions of Japan, it is an unquestioned fact that the Japanese are a proud people inflated with success in two wars, and that there exists a cause of friction which may at any time bring on a clash of arms. Will leaving these shores and islands unprotected cause Japan to be any more complaisant or promote national security in case hostilities should occur. Where is the wisdom of keeping nearly thirty battleships in the North Atlantic and not a single first-class one in the whole Pacific ocean?

The West Oakland Home.

While all the organizations benefited by the tag day collections are entirely worthy, a good many are regretting that the West Oakland Home was not also a beneficiary of the generosity developed by the tag day enterprise. However, the doll show that will be given in the early days of December for the benefit of the Home will afford the public opportunity to give substantial appreciation of this splendid charity. It is to be hoped that the response to this appeal to charity and public spirit will be generous and unanimous.

The West Oakland Home has a large claim on the sympathy and local pride of our citizens. It is an Oakland institution, founded by Oakland people, and supported in the main by the local public. Its mission is a noble one—the care of orphans and friendless children, the reclaiming of waifs from the streets, giving them the comforts of a home and instilling in their hearts the lessons of morality, cleanliness and self-respecting industry. Not in all the activities of human benevolence is there a finer work than this, nor one more useful to society.

The Home, having no endowment and deriving no aid from public taxation, is a severe financial drain on those charged with its administration and support. Its relief work taxes not only their time and energies, but their pockets. By the law of its being the institution is always in straitened financial circumstances, lacking the means to adequately carry on the work to which it is dedicated. It is now in special need of assistance.

As it appears before the public as a supplicant for fatherless and friendless childhood, its appeal is addressed to the tenderest and noblest sentiments of humanity. It is made at a time when the emotions should be most easily stirred and Christian philanthropy most deeply arrested. "Suffer little children to come unto me," said the Babe of Bethlehem. The orphans in the West Oakland Home are in need of creature comforts as well as guidance in the right way. Let the outpouring of sympathy for them be manifested in a golden shower when the doll show is held.

In the little town of Cuero, Texas, 15,000 turkeys were received in one day for shipment to the northern market for Thanksgiving day. The farmers were paid nearly $25,000 for these birds. Maybe you think this doesn't mean thrift and comfort on the farms and a lively holiday trade in Cuero. A country that ships large quantities of fat poultry to market is prosperous.

If the report of the State Board of Health is to be relied on, the deaths from tuberculosis last year were 148 per cent of the entire mortality. It is a rather appalling fact that one in every seven deaths in California is caused by tuberculosis, which is as difficult to cure as bubonic plague and spreads contagion in every community in the State. A vast deal of effort is expended in preventing the spread of smallpox and bubonic plague, but the deaths from tuberculosis in California last year were more than ten times the total deaths from smallpox and bubonic plague combined during the five years past. Apparently we are striving with great energy and at much expense to stop a small leak at the spigot while the bung hole is wide open and running full tilt. Isn't it about time that the nation became aroused to the peril of the white plague? It is infinitely more terrible than the bubonic plague, which has been a bugbear on the Pacific Coast for several years.

The heavy rains so early in the season give promise of good crops next year. The farmers will be enabled to plow and seed their ground, and the abundant moisture in the soil will be an insurance against drought later on. Last year the yield of fruit was large, but the grain crop was light and inferior. Weather conditions will be more propitious this season, as the heavy rainfall this month demonstrates.

Now the Czar is reported to have been talking foolishly to the young crown prince of Servia, who, by the way, appears to be a hot-headed ass. But it is possible that the press got its report of the interview from the prince, who has been running around with a chip on his shoulder emitting hot air ever since Bulgaria declared her independence and Austria announced the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. If the Czar has been talking loosely about what Russia proposes to let Austria do or not do, he is as big a fool as Prince George of Servia and as great a firebrand as the German Kaiser.

The Old Familiar Game of Knocking

The proposal that George A. Knight be appointed Secretary of the Navy in President Taft's cabinet is objected to by persons in California on the ground that he is attorney for certain corporations. Nearly every lawyer of ability and prominence is in the employ of one or more corporations. Secretary Root is one of the ablest and highest paid corporation lawyers in the world. Attorney-General Bonaparte is more of a corporation lawyer than Mr. Knight. Secretary Root ceased to practice law on entering the cabinet, and Attorney-General Bonaparte severed his profession connection with corporations when he entered the government service. But as Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Knight's assumed friendliness for corporations would count for nothing. He would be powerless to give them any advantage. But George A. Knight is an honorable, high-minded man who would give the government the best and most loyal service that a patriotic citizen could render. We would like to see a Californian in the new cabinet. Judge McKenna and Victor H. Metcalf made excellent records as cabinet officers, and there is no reason to believe Knight would not do equally well. If we start knocking every man proposed to the President-elect no Californian will be appointed to the cabinet. By kicking at each other in the past the people of this State have more than once deprived themselves of representation at the executive council board. It looks as if we had started in to do the same thing again.

California Sons of American Revolution Will Enjoy Feast at St. Mark Nov. 28.

The California Society of Sons of the American Revolution will hold a banquet Saturday evening of this week at the Hotel St. Mark. This is the first time the society has ever held any of these functions outside of San Francisco. It is expected hereafter to divide the ornamentals between San Francisco and Oakland. The dinner Saturday night is to celebrate Evacuation Day. Address will be made by George C. Pardon and W. G. Capwell.

There are already a hundred members of the society living in Alameda county and many others who are eligible. It is hoped by giving the dinner on this side to induce those who are eligible for membership to join the association.

While this dinner is exclusively for men if successful the next one will be open to the women as well.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

A poor complexion worries a woman more than a poor intellect.

A girl likes to read poetry so as to imagine some man is talking to her.

A very valuable university course would be one to teach college men how little they know.

AFTERNOON

A program of much interest was given today by the Oakland Club. Mrs. B. N. Shaeffer was presiding hostess for the day. Mrs. Nora Kyle who has recently returned from an extended tour abroad, gave a splendid talk on her cruise up the Mediterranean, also of her visit to Jerusalem. The musical portion of the program was contributed by Miss Ruthie Lynch, soprano and Miss Sadie Henderson of San Francisco pianiste; Miss Gladys Kump was the accompanist. Miss Lynch has a very pleasing voice and Miss Henderson is a young musician, a pupil of Mme. Brandt, who has a future before her.

Owing to the severe rainstorm, the attendance was very small, but those who braved the elements were amply repaid for their endeavors. At the conclusion of the program, coffee and sandwiches were served and a social chat ensued.

Mrs. Shaeffer was assisted in her gracious duties by the following ladies: Misses O. R. Caldwell, F. B. Tyler, J. Stanford, C. A. Young, F. Mikel, F. W. Laufer, M. F. Crighton, E. H. Forster, Auguste Hannen, E. F. Colk, Leroy Hatchett, A. E. Chapplain, Miss Beaman.

PRETTY WEDDING.

A pretty home wedding will be that uniting Miss Agnes I. Dunn, daughter of F. T. Dunn of Sacramento, and Carl A. Phelps of this city.

The ceremony will be solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Richard T. Fossel, 270 Harwood street, at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. Father McDonald of St. Augustine's parish, to be the officiating clergyman. The bride will be attended by Miss Florence Murphy of Mill Valley, a matron of honor, and Miss Rose Campbell of Berkeley will be the maid-of-honor. Richard Fossel will be the best man.

The bridal gown is to be of white messaline satin made in empire style with yoke of teal duck lace. She will wear the conventional veil. A unique idea will be used in the fashion of the bride's bouquet, which is to be of white cyclamen and maiden hair ferns attached to a Chinese bracelet.

The bride's attendants will be gowned in pink and will carry bride-maid roses. A bower of white chrysanthemum and green foliage has been constructed in the drawing room under which the service will be read. The same decoration will be carried out through the halls and dining room.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception will be held. The guest list, which will number fifty, will include the relatives and closest friends.

After the return from a brief honeymoon journey the young couple will make their home in San Leandro, where Mr. Phelps has built a home.

ANNUAL MILITARY BALL.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the members of Company N, First Regiment League of the Cross Cadets for their twelfth annual military ball to be given at Maple hall, Fourteenth and Webster streets, Wednesday evening, December 2.

This affair is annually looked forward to by the many friends of Company N, as one of the most successful social functions of the season, and no pains will be spared by the committee to make this occasion eclipse all former efforts of the company.

The music which has always been a feature of Company N's affairs will be first class in every respect.

The following are the members of the committee having the affair in charge: Lieutenant George L. Courtney (chairman), Sergeant H. J. Fazakerley and Privates V. P. Sexton, George Ahern, D. W. Cronin, E. Martin, Harold Hogan, and R. Hainmond.

Captain H. J. Leonard will act as door director and will be assisted by Lieutenant J. W. Fitzsimmons and Lieutenant G. J. Courtney.

There is nothing about the kitchen which collects so much dirt, grease and grime as pots and pans; and there is nothing that will clean them so quickly, easily and thoroughly as GOLD DUST.

GOLD DUST cleanses until the last evidence of dirt has gone, and removes every trace of germ life.

The membership includes Mrs. R. B. Mott, Mrs. R. Bradley, Mrs. R. T. Wall, Mrs. George C. Bush, Mrs. Philip Hekear, Mrs. Short, Mrs. C. Brown, Mrs. Thomas Duffey, Mrs. W. O. Toye, Mrs. M. F. Wilson, Mrs. E. J. Murray and the hostess.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Colonel and Mrs. David Howell Jackson announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine, to Harry Hunt Atkinson of Salt Lake City, now a very successful attorney of Tonopah, Nevada, and recently elected Justice of the Peace.

Kate Jackson is well-known in Oakland society, having attended the Oakland Friday Night dances for several years and is a sister of Mrs. Charles Howard Bain of Piedmont.

The Jacksons have spent the past few years in Tonopah, where Colonel Jackson has large mining interests.

Mr. Atkinson is a Stanford graduate and fraternal brother of Rudolph Schillings, George Gage and Cleve Baker, the latter his roommate through college days.

The wedding follows close upon the engagement announcement, as it takes place Saturday, the 28th of November, in Tonopah, to be followed by a wedding trip to California.

LADIES OF THE ROUND TABLE.

The regular session of the Ladies of the Round Table was held at the home of Mrs. Martin in East Oakland on Friday afternoon. A splendidly written paper was given by Mrs. Joseph on the "Effect of Roman Christianity on Civilization."

LIFE OF A PIMPLE

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Over Night Without Trouble.

The dispensary of positum, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Those who have tried it will find that the fifty cent box, on sale at The Owl Drug Co., and all drug stores, is sufficient to clear the complexion, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, rashes, hives, scabs, blisters, barbers, and every other form of itch, including itching feet. Homicidol oil and cream containing no grease or perfume, such as the face and hands, is not preferable. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of positum, it can be had free of charge by post to the Emergency Laboratory, 32 West Twenty-first street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion over night and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours.

CORPORATION TO DREDGE FOR GOLD

Oakland and Berkeley Men Are Interested in Big Consolidated Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—An enterprise of tremendous importance to the Sacramento valley, with prominent San Francisco capitalists behind it, was launched yesterday with the incorporation of the Natomac Consolidated Companies of California, capital $25,000,000.

The purposes of incorporation include the working of mines, dredging in streams, working stone quarries, handling gravel and cement, constructing and operating reservoirs and aqueducts, supplying water for all purposes and supplying electricity, gas, power and heat to cities and counties. While the company intends eventually to engage in all of these industries, its primary object is dredging for gold in the Feather and American rivers and their tributaries.

The Feather River Development Company, the Natomac Development Company, the Folsom Development Company and several others have been taken into the consolidation. All are engaged in dredging now and the work will be carried on upon a larger scale when the plans of the new corporation are perfected.

The principal backers of the concern are the following San Franciscans: F. J. Carolan, W. P. Hammon, E. J. de Sola, Louis Stoss, Joseph D. Grant, William H. Crocker and John C. Coleman. Mr. Hammon, who was one of the most active of the promoters, will have the general management.

The incorporators are: Frank W. Griffin, Charles W. Slick, Maurice E. Gillin, Reginald A. Garrett, Chauncey S. Goodrich, David P. Cameron and George R. Taft of San Francisco; Percy Evans of Berkeley, and James H. Ellis of San Rafael.

At 11 o'clock the packages were opened and the spread was laid. Those present were Miss E. Fitzgerald, Miss Jacinto, Miss L. Cushing, Miss S. Wise, Miss Geneva Ellis, Miss Flora Friedmann, Mrs. Lyons Chapman; Regis Ellis, Albert McCorl, Victor Lumblad, August Momm.

Minister Denies Finding SOUL-MATE In Answering Lies of Enemies

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The Rev. Dr. Myron W. Haynes, pastor of the Delmar Avenue Baptist church, who is to resign his charge, declared enemies had spread rumors that his conduct as pastor had caused friction with his congregation and deacons.

"For fifteen years I have been hounded by enemies who have done everything in their power to persecute me," said Dr. Haynes. "This is no 'soul mate' case. There is no woman connected with it, as some malicious persons have reported. 'The statement I was compelled to resign from the Neldon Avenue Bapt-

The trouble about the transportation was this: I was endeavoring to aid a young friend of mine to go West with his wife and sister. I went to the Rock Island office to ask for rates and it was there that a clerk suggested that I send them west over my clergyman's ticket. I did so after I had explained to the clerk that they were not related to me and after he had told me just why I was seek-

SIGHS FOR Return of HUBBY BUT HE SIGHS NOT FOR HER

NEW YORK—"I love my husband still," declared Mrs. H. W. Barter on the witness stand before Vice Chancellor Emery at Newark, N. J. "I could not be made happier than by his coming back to me. But this he will not do, and for the sake of our child it is better that I get a divorce from him." She is suing for divorce.

Mrs. Barter, a pretty, educated English woman, was married in St. Stephen's Church, Hampstead, London, September 11, 1897. She came to visit a married sister at New Dorp, Staten Island, bringing with her their six months' old boy.

Romance of Prima Donna's Son SHATTERED BY DIVORCE COURT

LONDON, Nov. 20.—George Nesbit Armstrong, Mine Melba's son, was divorced by his wife formerly Ruby Otway, after twenty months of unhappy union.

The story was related in an exclusive dispatch several weeks ago. A curious circumstance is that any one reading the reports of the suit in the London papers would never be able to identify respondent as the son of the famous prima donna. This shows what a person with a big "pull" can do with the in peccable press here.

Ruby Armstrong, not yet 20, told a plausible story of violence and infidelity on the part of her husband. She said he began to quarrel with and ill use her within two months after their marriage. They went to Texas and there he beat her and locked her up in her room. Later they went to Australia, where her unhappiness became intensified.

On their return to London early this year Armstrong was thrashed by an irate husband, a Mr. Hoffman, who found him with Mrs. Hoffman at the Hotel Metropole. Hoffman also demanded $5,000.

Armstrong confessed to his wife, and she immediately began suit. It put in no defense.

Mine Melba arrived in London from Cardiff, Wales, and her son is with her. She regards him as an injured innocent.

'Look Here Upon This Picture, and on This'

--HAMLET

—By A. Michael in London Black and White.

Nothing in our modern life is more startling than the active part taken by women in public affairs. To illustrate the sharp contrast between woman's mission as she conceived it three generations ago and her present attitude, our artist has drawn Horatio Nelson as a lad, being sent to his first ship by his mother, and receiving a parting injunction, on the other hand, he gives us a youthful pretty sufficient addressing in attentive crowd. It is for the nation to decide which picture it prefers.

Philadelphia School Marm "NIFTY" AT THE DANCE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—And now Boston has put its best foot forward and said its teachers are too pedantic that long pursuit of "elocip" and "eloquence" them round-shouldered and flat-headed, and its school authorities have decided that they must be limbered up so that the only way to teach them to tip the "light steps" is to roll them through the dance steps in our piano-rolling school.

"The quick step, the waltz, the waltz and dozens of hopping and skipping steps at p. are taught every day in our schools. No, we don't have to organize speed dancing classes for the ten-year-olds," said the dance steps in our piano-rolling school.

"Why every teacher and every child in the public schools here," said William A. Stoeber, director of physical instruction, "is taught how to do it. Boston is just behind Philadelphia in this matter." We teach the dance steps in our piano-rolling school.

Members of the Board of Education are of the opinion that the teachers have acquired enough of the "piano" in our schools to impart the knowledge and the "nifty" to their pupils if necessary.

"It is not the fault of my wife or births and the birth rate have come under the control of human will and choice in a sense and to a degree never before true.

"Our leading American authority, Dr. John Shaw Billings, put it as follows:

"The most important factor in the past in the change is the deliberate and voluntary avoidance or prevention on the part of a steadily increasing number of married people who prefer to have but a few children. Before this change began the birth of a child in the vast majority of cases was not an indication of a deliberate preference for that result on the part of both or either of the parents."

"There is not a single one among the experts who denies that this is the great underlying cause of the modern decline in the birthrate of all civilized communities."

Professor Willcox also gave statistics to show that marriage is less common among college graduates of both sexes than it is in the average of the entire population. The figures regarding the birthrate among college graduates show that highly educated part of the American people not only does not increase the population at all but on the contrary, fails to reproduce itself.

ONLY $50,000 For Breach of Promise

Heir Entangled in Mesh of Love Sued by Milliner.

DETROIT, Nov. 20.—H. M. prominent in Indiana, who has recently inherited a fortune has been sued for breach of promise by Delta M. Gardner of New York. The case was filed in the Federal court some time ago but service was not obtained until November 19. She says that Wescott and she were accepted June 2, and was accepted June 24 recently.

"I have letters which I think will prove interesting material for the trial when the case comes to trial, it ever does."

Wescott has mining interests in Colorado and the Southwest. The principals in the suit met in New York, where Miss Gardner is a designer in a millinery establishment.

When last heard from Miss Gardner was in Logansport, Ind., but was intended to return to New York.

Wescott is a member of one of the rich families in Richmond, Ind. His father, who was a carriage maker, died recently, leaving $2,000,000, of which "Larry" received about $200,000.

Miss Gardner and myself had been good friends at that, too, but the question of marriage was never contemplated. I haven't seen her for about a year and have not heard from her since the latter part of July.

STILL AFTER MURPHY JURORS

THINK THE GIRL HAS ELOPED

BOTH SIDES USING THEIR CHALLENGES NOW

Counsel on Both Sides Join in Tiffs Over Trivial Matters--Twelve Talesmen in Box When Session Opened.

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Five jurors have been permanently sworn for the trial of Attorney Frank J. Murphy, charged with attempting to bribe J. M. Kelly, a ventriloquist in the Rue case. They are George A. Brown, real estate, 2731 Clay street; John Gilmartin, clerk, 2539 Van Ness avenue; Thomas Eland, contractor, 1291 Gough street; Peter Bernard, wine merchant, 2118 O'Farrell street, and James W. Ryan, saloonman, 3623 Nineteenth street.

At the opening of the session, with twelve men in the box, Judge Murasky ordered that the peremptory challenges be exercised upon the twelve men temporarily passed, but by consent it was decided to excuse Fred Stuermer, a grocer, who had testified that he read all of the confession of E. A. S. Blake, the star witness in the case.

Used Peremptory

This left one vacancy, and Dennis Courneen was examined and passed by both sides. Attorneys Schlesinger and Ferrall, representing the defendant, then exercised four of their ten challenges, excusing John H. Herbst, Gustave Barthels, Martin Keating and Isaac E. Cwynas. District Attorney Langdon used three of his peremptories upon Simon Cohn, John D. McCarthy, and Dennis Courneen. The work of swuring the other seven jurors was then continued, and Stephen G. Arnold, examined. He stated he had a leaning toward the prosecution and although questioned at length was finally excused.

Counsel Tilts

Several times during the morning tilts between counsel were brought to the surface, but Judge Murasky quickly intervened, and there was little unseemly bickering.

On one occasion, when Attorney Schlesinger was examining a talesman, Attorney Cook called him to account and the former replied:

"You must either have been asleep or not paying attention, Mr. Cook, or you'd know about the line of my examination."

The assistant district attorney appealed to the court, but his honor stated that the prosecutor should have made a formal objection instead of addressing Schlesinger.

Boni, Fighting for Children, Says Ex-Wife Is in an Abyss of Shame

PRINCESS DE SAGAN AND HER CHILDREN.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The suit of Count Boni de Castellane against his former wife, who was Miss Anna Gould of New York, and is now the wife of Prince Helle de Sagan, for the custody of his three children, was opened here today. The courtroom was jammed to the doors when the hearing was called, many Americans being in the throng. Count Boni de Castellane occupied a prominent place in the room.

This is the first time the French newspapers, which are forbidden to publish divorce proceedings in court, have had an opportunity to ventilate this scandal and they were represented in force by reporters and artists.

From the very beginning of the proceedings, it was apparent that it is to be war to the knife between the adversaries and that no one would be spared.

Boni's Grief

M. Bonnet, representing the count, was the first to be heard. He presented the general ground upon which his client stated that the three children were confined to the care of their grandmother, the Count's mother, and that the Princess should be compelled to contribute $40,000 annually to their support, namely that the moral atmosphere of the Sagan household was unfit for the children.

This allegation is in three parts:

First: The wanton conduct of Prince Helle de Sagan in the past, second, that he had not reformed since his marriage. M. Bonnet said he was prepared to prove that the Prince had seduced two of his former mistresses since the date of his marriage—and, third, that the conduct of the Princess before her marriage to the Prince had been improper.

Abysm of Shame

Proceeding, M. Bonnet developed this theme: "Keeping constantly to the fore the claim that the Count was seeking only the welfare of his children."

He said it was with a sad heart that the Count had been compelled to bring a suit involving his former wife, whose alliance with De Sagan, he declared, was dragging her into an abyss of shame, and whose pride and hatred rendered a settlement out of court impossible.

To prove that the Princess had contemplated seeking a separation from her present husband, M. Bonnet recounted certain alleged consultations held November 8th, between the Prince and Princess De Sagan and the Count's lawyers.

The primary purpose of the exposition is to exploit the resources and potentialities of Alaska and Yukon

State, concession, foreign and small, the chief characteristics of all exhibits. The demonstration of interests, processes of production and manufacture is the rule in all departments. The transformation of the raw material, staged by stage, into the marketable finished product will be exemplified.

PAY STREAK.

The amusement section of the Exposition, known as Chicago, the Parkway, at San Louis, the Lake at Portland, as the Trail at Jamestown as the Warpath, will be known as Seattle as the Pay Streak, a term well known to miners in all countries and especially to those who have worked along the Pacific Coast and in Alaska. The Pay Streak will be a mile in length and will have thirty meritorious attractions, new in every respect and costing hundreds of thousands of dollars.

CLIMATE.

Exposition visitors will experience no unpleasant weather. Seattle does not suffer any great extremes in heat or cold. In the summer the temperature rarely reaches 90 degrees, and in winter it never goes as low as zero. The annual mean temperature is 51.4 degrees and the annual rainfall averages 37.6 inches.

LOW RATES.

The transcontinental railroads will have low rates of freight from Eastern points to the Pacific Coast, and rates from Western points will be equally favorable with stop-over privileges.

THE STATES.

There will be about 100 hand-some State buildings at the Exposition, which appropriated $100,000.

territories in the United States and the Dominion of Canada; and to make known and foster the vast importance of the trade of the Pacific ocean and of the countries bordering thereon. It will also demonstrate the marvelous progress of Western America, where, within a radius of 1,000 miles of Seattle live 7,600,000 persons, who are directly interested in making the exposition the true exponent of their material wealth and development.

THE GROUNDS.

A portion of the campus of Washington University, the exposition grounds are 250 acres in extent, twenty minutes' ride from the business section of the city and have been procured by competent authority as, auctorially, the finest ever used for such a purpose. Set between two beautiful fresh-water lakes, Washington bordering on the east and Union on the west, the grounds present unsurpassed stretches of waterfront, and tall stately glens of the forest, commanding vistas, gentle slopes and commanding terraces add to the beauty of the picture. The principal thoroughfare, Rainier avenue, is on a direct line with that white-clad sentinel, Mount Rainier, 14,170 feet high, whose perpetual snow-capped peak may be plainly seen from the grounds. On the west the snow-covered Olympics and on the east Mt. Baker, towering over the white-capped Cascades, are in plain view. Esplanade and ornate boat landings adorn the lake shores, which permit many aquatic features to be presented.

THE PALACES.

Fifteen large buildings of surpassing beauty and grace are grouped in the state structures.

California's who know the West only by name will have an unparalleled chance to see the Pacific Coast in 1909 and view the old British Columbia and Yukon in 1909 and view the innumerable scenic attractions which are not surpassed in grandeur anywhere else in the world. FRAT MEMBERS OBTAIN TWO WEEKS OF GRACE TO DECIDE

Open Fight Against School Directors Is Continued for a Time

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—On the urgent plea of a number of parents and the pleadings of Attorney Brewton A. Hayne before Fred Sinzheimer, last night the school board has extended the time for students of the High School to sever their connection with the Greek letter secret societies, to December 8. Under a resolution passed about two months ago all who failed to present evidence of resignation from the secretaries and fraternities by November 24 might be denied recommendation to the university by Principal James.

When Superintendent Bunker took account yesterday of the results of the campaign against these organizations he found that about 20 per cent of the membership was refractory and in a mood to defy the board. "The board has turned away during the past three days to all places of business and there was a rush of parents and others to the board rooms last night to present grievances and barate the department generally for what some mothers termed 'interference' with the rights of their daughters."

Opens Trouble

Bunker opened the trouble himself by making a statement that out of nine secret societies among the boys, seven had sent their charters back to the national chapters. Four out of the seven sororities had returned charters.

"This means that out of about 200 boys and girls, now over 20 boys and about 25 girls have disobeyed the orders of this board," said Bunker. "This is a good showing on its face. The plea of some of the refractory ones for more time is inspired by their parents in some instances. I think all the members have been well informed of the plans of this board."

Attorney Hayne said that there had been a meeting of parents of refractory students yesterday night at the home of Mrs. F. H. Lawton, 2311 Laurel avenue, and that it had been decided to ask the board to be as lenient as possible in order that none of the students would lose their credits.

Granted Delay

President Lewis said that as 80 per cent of the secret society membership had obeyed the rulings of the board he could not see how the disobedient minority could, with grace, ask for any condition.

Hayne wanted a compromise, that the remaining societies pledge themselves to initiate no new members. None of the directors took kindly to this suggestion, and after two hours discussion at the suggestion of Superintendent Bunker, the time for refractory students obeying the orders of the department was extended two weeks.

"After that the orders of this board will go into effect without fail," said President Lewis.

Hayne made a promise that the problem would be solved by that time.

CORNER-STONE FOR NEW DOE LIBRARY TO BE LAID

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—The corner stone of the new Doe Library on the University campus will be laid tomorrow at 10 o'clock with appropriate ceremonies, in which the University community, including the board of trustees, will assist. The chief speaker will be President Wheeler, who is expected from the East this evening.

The following records will be placed in the masonry: Announcement of courses, 1908-9; University of Berkeley, Bulletin California School of Dentistry, Announcement of the Colleges of Dentistry and Pharmacology; Catalogue of officers and students, Guide to the Collection of the Department of Anthropology of the University, Catalogue of the University campus, conditions of exercises; examples of University publications, rules and regulations of the Academic Senate and faculties; President's Biennial report; University Chronicle; annual report of the secretary to the regents; Commencement 1907 and 1908; Director of graduates of the University; list of University publications; Catalogue of the Academic Senate; badge of the Grand Army of the Republic.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY DONOHUE IS HOT AFTER THE POOL SELLERS

District Attorney Donahue was present in both departments of the police court when the cases of men recently arrested on charges of selling pools within the city limits were called for trial. Owing to the rule in the past whereby the accused pool sellers were allowed to forfeit $50 each on each charge this rule was followed in the cases this morning. This will be the last time, however, that such action will be taken.

"In a short time to come," said the district attorney, "the owners of property rented to the pool sellers will be notified through my office that they will be amenable to the law if they continue to rent their premises for illegal purposes. This I think will go far toward stamping out the evil."

Both Judges Smith and Samuels announced in open court that in the future their bail for similar offenses would be fixed at $250 cash or $500 bonds. There will be no forfeitures, they declared, and if bail is forfeited, bench warrants would be issued.

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE TOMORROW

MARATHON RACE POSTPONED---RELIANCE AND CENTURY TEAMS PLAY AT ALAMEDA

Clubs Ready for Big Football Fight

The Reliance and Century athletic football teams will lock horns tomorrow morning at 10:15 o'clock at the Recreation Park (Alameda) for another one of those good old time American football tussels. It will be a fight from start to finish. For weeks both teams have been practicing hard. While the Reliance boys have the advantage of weight and were victorious last year, the Century players are heavier and faster on their feet. Their game with the soldiers showed snappy playing, excellent team work and powerful defense. Since then they have given their attention to some splendid back line and end formations and have improved upon their intermissions. They promise to give the Reliance stars a fight for their money.

Tomorrow's contest will be the last opportunity for the enthusiasts to witness the revived American intercollegiate game between two strong teams in this vicinity this season. The field has been made heavy by the rain, but it is hoped that it will be sufficiently dry to permit the contest to go on. "Fat" Larue will be on hand with his band of roosters from the Reliance Club to add to the game.

The line up of the Reliance Club team includes Merton Harris, a member of this year's varsity Rugby team at the University of California, who will play right half. Swain, also a University of California athlete, will play fullback for the Reliance Club. William Middleton will act as referee. Walter Christie as umpire. Kiser, captain of the Alameda High school eleven, will be field judge. The line up:

Boxing Contests In Other Cities

BOSTON, Nov. 25.—Sailor Burns of New York was given the decision over Joe Thomas of San Francisco in their twelve-round bout at the Armory Athletic Association last night. This bout was substituted for the Nell-Morgan match. Nell having strained a ligament in his knee Monday while training. LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Battling Johnson lost again last night to Jim Flynn, the former last being hammered around the ring for ten rounds.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 25.—R. Crawford, former middleweight wrestling champion of Los Angeles, won his match here against Jim Burns of New Orleans in two straight falls last night.

All Supreme Judges of U.S. Court Are Well; No Retirements

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 25.—In an interview here today, Justice John M. Harlan of the United States Supreme Court, who is the guest of Governor Wilson, said: "I have no reason to think that any judge on the bench contemplates retirement in the near future. All are in the enjoyment of fair health, and are fond of their work."

Jack Gleason Signs Strong Boxing Card

The card arranged by Promoter Jack Gleason of the Occidental Club for his boxing carnival at the Coliseum on Monday night, November 30, is the best of the popular priced cards drawn up this year. There will be four bouts in all, calling for fifty-one rounds of the liveliest kind of fighting.

Glen Nelson will again hook up with Kid Harrison at 135 pounds in a fifteen round battle, and this time both men are out to finally settle the question of who's who. This will be the main battle of the evening and should be a slambang affair from beginning to end.

Charlie Reilly and Joe Leahy will enter the ring in the second big event of the night, weighing 130 pounds, and are scheduled to go fifteen rounds.

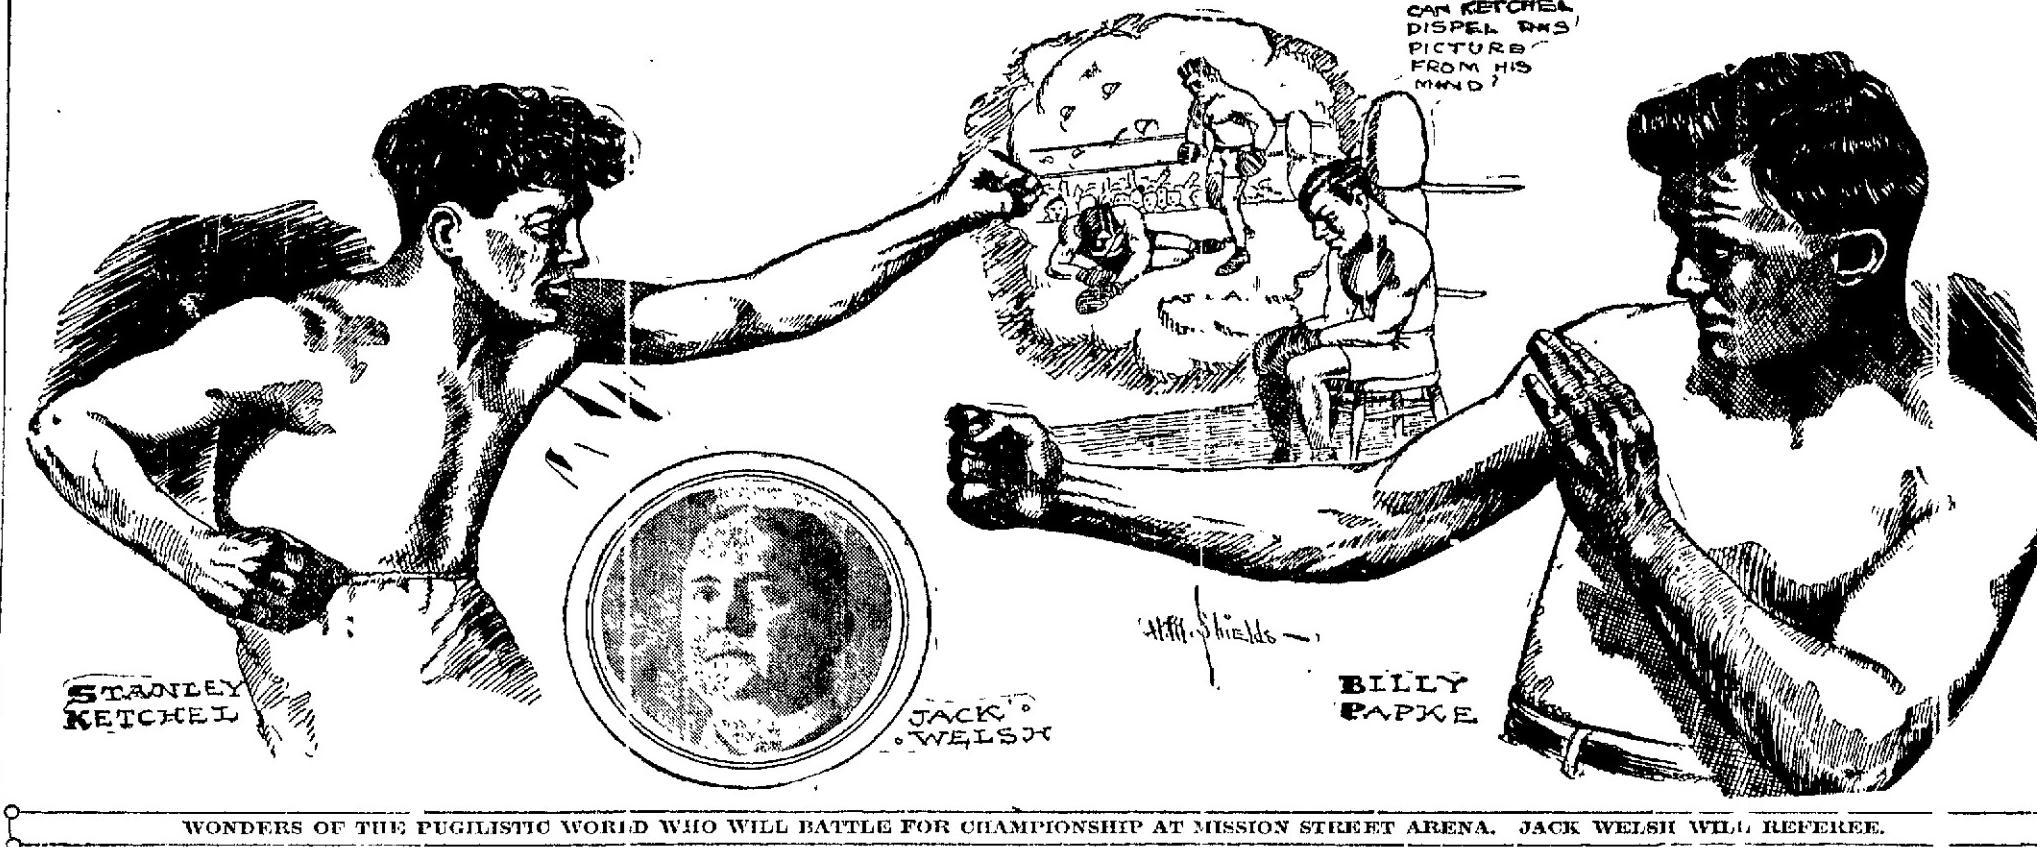

Perhaps the most promising fight will be the fifteen round affair between Monte Attell and Little Jimmie Reagan at 118. Reagan is without doubt one of the most promising little fellows in his class today, and Attell will find him one of the toughest customers he has yet had to deal with in the ring.

Three other fifteen round battles will be fought this afternoon. These will be between K. D. McCadden and Eddie Korpse. The boys will weigh 125.

Gleason has fixed his prices at $1 to $3 for the bleachers and box seats, respectively, with the reserved seats at $2.

Welch and Attell To Battle Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—While no world championship title is involved in the fifteen-round battle tonight at Vernon, between Abe Attell and Freddie Welsh, fight followers concede that it will be the best exhibition of fast and scientific boxing that ever was staged anywhere, and inasmuch as it will bring together the featherweight champion of the world and the featherweight champion of England, who admittedly are the cleverest boxers in their respective class, it is expected that Attell will enter the ring as the favorite in betting.

EDWARDS-CULLEN CONTEST RESULTS IN DRAWN BATTLE

Good Night of Boxing at the West Oakland Athletic Club Last Evening--Ritchie Wins From O'Neil.

The West Oakland Athletic Club entertained a rather large crowd last evening on while six boxing contests, some of which were very exciting, were held, but without any one that could be called really bad. The main event of the evening between Frankie Edwards and Dick Cullen was declared a draw by referee George Bown after the men had fought six very interesting rounds. Edwards proved to be a clever fighter, and throughout the contest fought as much as possible at long range, using his left jab and right crosses to good effect but always clinching when the men got within striking distance. Taking the contest punch for punch, there is no doubt that Edwards is the better boxer. Edwards says, however, that his record for not showing as good as in some of his previous starts was because he tried to put the Australian away. O'Neil made a good showing, but Edwards' tactics were better of the going, but allowing for the big lead that Cullen took in the first round and again in the sixth, at which time he made a whitewash dash, the decision could hardly be said to be anything but a draw. Now, O'Neil, Cullen and Edwards can hit hard enough to put a dent in a derby but the man who was clean and pretty and the main event was easily voted the best contest of the night.

Special Event

In the special event Tommy Kelly, highly touted boxer, was pitted against Claus Lueca, who wishes to be styled the Fighting Italian of Chicago. Mr. Lueca had been advised of the great fighting ability of the New Yorker and when he entered the ring he was anything but the brave warrior he had led up to in his eastern reputation and produced somewhat of a disappointment, but he displayed more class than the average six-round fighter and with an opponent who would be willing to exchange punches in a ring like a fighter, he might have shown even better. Lueca started the contest off with a wild rush to a clinch, after which Kelly pulled him with a right to the body and a left to the head. The little canary bird of yellow immediately took root on the shoulder of the Italian and the contest was on. In which a badly scared young man tried to stalk through the six rounds by covering up while at a striking distance and hold-

Worse Than Ever

Gordan has now been fighting to our knowledge for about ten years and to this day he is worse now than ever. He knows about as much about the art of boxing as Jackie Baumgarton knows of astronomy and the sooner he quits the game the better off he and all connected with him will be.

Paddy Ellis, the spckled beauty from Arkansas, weighed 130 pounds. Young Nelson in the first of the six-round bout, Paddy made a good showing and proved unconscious of the punches hurled at him by the fighter from Los Angeles. Ellis won in the second round by a knockout. In the third round he was in which a badly scared young man tried to stalk through the six rounds by covering up while at a striking distance and hold-up.

Both Very Aggressive

They are all that could be asked for in the line of rough, hard fighting, aggressive fellows and their battles tomorrow is expected for that reason to be one of the bitterest fight contests in the fairs have had a chance to witness in the local ring for a long time.

The teams will line up as follows:

Barbarians—Sands, Brown, Sadler, Shanes, Goff, Meyerley and Kuy, forward; Price, wing forward; Phillips and Edger, wing left; Donovan, Goodall, Eagle, three-quarters, Hyland, half; Tiedeman, full.

Olympics—Brennan, Moleno, Aquilino, Minturn, Thropo, Pomery and Wallish, forward; Laumeister and Webster, five-eighths; Snidgen, McConville and Kavanaugh, three-quarters; Clark, wing forward; Miller, half; Briggs, full.

Olympic-Barbs Are Ready for Big Contest

"Who will win the Olympic-Barbs name tomorrow?" is the question everybody is asking. No one is certain to have an opinion. The Barbs are confident of victory. They are heavier, stronger men behind the line and have the good record of the season to back them up. Tiegelman, one of the stars of last year's team, will be back again in his old position as full. With this veteran back in the game there will be no lack of gumption and life.

The Olympics are not saying much but doing a whole lot of practice on the quiet. They realize that they have got a stiff battle before them and need the assistance of every point in the way of scientific tricks to offset the weight and strength of their opponents. Upon this basis, the Barbs are hopeful.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Any chronic ulcer shows an unhealthy and impure condition of the blood. It is a diseased condition of the flesh at that particular spot, caused and kept inflamed and irritated by a continual discharge into it, of unhealthy matter from the circulation. No treatment can have any curative effect except a medicine which will renovate the blood and entirely remove the cause.

Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are sometimes helpful in reducing inflammation, cleansing the ulcer, or perhaps lessening the discharge, but such applications do not reach the blood where the disease germs are located and can never effect a cure. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation, drives out all impurities and morbid matter, and by nourishing the flesh with rich pure blood causes the place to heal naturally and permanently.

S. S. S. does not make a surface cure, but by beginning at the bottom, and rebuilding broken-down tissue, and supplying healthful, healing qualities to the blood, causes the place to fill in with new, firm flesh, while it steadily but surely effects a permanent cure. The ulcer can not exist when the blood is pure, and S. S. S. will thoroughly purify the blood. Bock on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

PARTNER OF ROOSEVELT'S FATHER IS DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Gilbert King, a prominent glass manufacturer of Brooklyn, N. Y., died yesterday at his temporary home in Los Angeles of a grippe and complications, for the relief of which he came here with Mrs. King six months ago. He was 69 years old and a veteran of the Civil War. King engaged in the manufacture of glass with the late Theodore Roosevelt, father of the President, at one time.

Shuffling Opticians

When you want the best far-and-near glass made, demand a Kryptok. It is made without the cement, without the pieces pasted on, and without the prominent surface seams which characterize the old-style bifocal.

This is the glass we have been pushing for five years, and is now sold by reputable opticians all over the world.

A written certificate goes with every pair, and the frank optician will be prompt to give it to you. The man who is trying to dupe you with an imitation will shuffle and try to avoid giving you the guarantee. Don't take the glasses unless you get it.

WARSHIPS REHEARSED TO RETURN HERE EVIDENCE, HE SAYS

PART OF ATLANTIC FLEET TO BE ASSIGNED TO WEST

Senator Flint and Roosevelt Hold Conference Over Disposition of Battleships Now on Way to Eastern Coast.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The important information that some of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet will proceed again to San Francisco after their return to Panama Roads in February was told me yesterday afternoon in a conference between Senator Flint of California and the President.

Senator Flint called on the President bearing evidently a message from the Pacific Coast in reference to the matter of maintaining an adequate battle force in Pacific waters. Senator Flint said after the interview:

"The desire of the people of the whole coast to have such a force permanently retained in the Pacific was strong and universal. I suggested that some of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet now in the Far East should be kept in the Pacific and that the others should be allowed to come home."

Declines to State

"Of course I cannot say what the determination of the President will be, but it may be to his discretion of the fleet must come from him."

Information from a very high source last night is to the effect that the President did not care to have the present plan of the navy in the program that the fleet shall come home as a whole on February 22, 1909, but that the fleet shall again round Cape Horn as a reinforcement for the battle ships and eight armored cruisers now in Pacific waters.

CARNEGIE SAYS PROTECTION ALWAYS

In Declining Invitation to go Before Tariff Committee Says He Is Now Out of Active Business.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Sereno Payne, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, today received a reply to the invitation which was extended to Andrew Carnegie to appear before the committee on the hearing on the metal monopole. Mr. Carnegie thanks Mr. Payne for his invitation, but asks to be excused.

"I am no longer in business and in my Century article," read the letter,

Did you ever think of this: That on a high-grade, ready-made suit that you'll pay almost the same that "Hahn" asks for the best materials?

Besides, you have the suit made to your special requirement.

And you'll have a pattern no one else can get, for there is only one design of a kind carried in stock.

Here's an important point: "You buy a 'ready-made,' 'sight unseen,' as far as the 'insides' are concerned—the man selling it to you doesn't know—for he doesn't rip it open to find out."

At "Hahn's" you are invited to watch the kind of materials going into the inside. You take nothing for granted at this shop.

"Hahn's" clothes are built to stay built—you can't pull the shape out of them—it is in to stay.

ADmits TALKING OVER MATTER WITH WOMAN

Witness For Defense in Martin Trial Asserts That He and Defendant Reviewed His Testimony in Jail.

In the Martin case before Judge Wells, this morning, C. H. Watten was on the stand for the defense when the trial was resumed. He testified to a number of minor details which he had noticed about the Martin home and its occupants on West street in 1907, when he was caretaker, which were intended to show that John was far from being perfect and that the defendant had been as kind toward him as she could be under the circumstances.

The witness stated in response to questions by Attorney Wyman that John Martin had given him a nickname, but he could not recall what the name was.

On cross-examination, Hynes asked:

"You called this lad 'Baby' John, didn't you?"

"No, I didn't."

"What did you call him?"

"I called him 'John'."

"What did he call you?"

"I don't know."

"Didn't he call you 'Watten the Great'?"

"Now, why did he call you that—was it because you had done many great things?"

"It was objected to and the objection was sustained."

Hynes then showed that the witness had assumed to advise Mrs. Martin as to how she ought to act and how she could do certain things and intimated that it was because of this conduct on his part that John had dubbed him "the great."
